Website: www.berrys.uk.com

Berrys provides a unique specialist service in planning and development and technical farm business advice from its base in rural Herefordshire.

Berrys specialises in maximising the value of all rural business assets; whether it's promoting a piece of land for development, ensuring that any funding in place is optimum or simply ensuring that all compliance aspects are managed efficiently to avoid delay or penalties, our team can assist.

Berrys "Offer of the Month"

Our in-house specialist, Vicky Price, is offering a free 1-hour consultation to Rural Hub members either currently working in, or interested in diversifying into intensive livestock if you call her during February.

Given the challenges faced by intensive livestock producers, this consultation offers a unique, no-obligation opportunity to consult with an expert on your best course of action in relation to funding, planning and compliance.

- match nutrients to crop, and soil needs, and
- keep livestock fertilisers and manures out of the water.

Brexit is the currently the biggest unknown faced by the arable industry. The UK could potentially be facing currently unknown barriers to trade with the EU, while also facing full exposure to global grain prices. In these uncertain times, UK arable farmers must have a well thought out Price Risk Management strategy. Joining us to provide detailed market analysis and lead discussions will be:

Cecilia Pryce, Openfield, and Stewart Johnson, Cofco

Staying with the social media theme....we have a steadily growing number of people joining Watch schemes as a means of sharing stuff that is happening near them with other people to drive crime out of Herefordshire. By way of example, in a 4 week period before Christmas, various social media posts were viewed over 1.9M times and 500,000 of those resulted in some form of further engagement.

If social media is not something you have done, just check out some of the posts on Facebook for Herefordshire on @NWHerefordshire

ATV Thefts – For those who have had Quad bikes stolen, you will know the costs and frustration involved. Many are simply rolled onto a trailer and away, or driven off. So based on my experiences here are some suggestions. There are numerous tracking devices, wheel locks, Quad Vices etc...on the market but before you spend a penny, try my top five tips to make it more difficult to simply roll it away

1. Store it out of sight
2. Take the key out of it
3. Chain it to the floor/post or other immovable object
4. Lock the door to the secure storage unit it's now in !
5. Take a fuse out/disconnect fuel pump/disconnect starter
